To Whom It May Concern:

I'm privileged to recommend Matt Watkins for employment; he would be a tremendous asset to any organization. Mr. Watkins is an incredibly malleable employee; he helped pioneer the implementation of the Academy model in our school and assisted in the curriculum development of a new required course. He taught the new course, which was outside of his teaching experience and never once complained. He is adept at collaboration, not only within the building, but across schools and is a contributing voice for addressing issues and creating positive change.

Mr. Watkins is heavily invested in his school and in his students. He also took on the role of recording meeting minutes for all of our weekly Small Learning Community meetings and they are by far the most organized and detailed minutes within our teams. He consistently provides student progress within his team meetings and reports the additional opportunities he provides his students. His benevolent demeanor compliments his charming personality and has enabled him to create many positive relationships with his peers and colleagues.

In closing, it's important to note that we are losing Mr. Watkins as a result of budgetary cuts. He will certainly be missed. I hope you'll sincerely consider him as a candidate for employment. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Amanda Wickersham
